A FIRESIDE TALK

JUST about eight months from now there's going to be some tall talking done by a few residents from Tonopah who will be poised with their necks under the ax for quick decapitation, says the Carranza Obelisk. And just about eight months from now some fresh butt-in is going to rise and pertinently catechise the subject regarding his actual cash value to the community based on actual accomplishment. On or about that same general period of time (to quote from the Scotch philosopher) some heavy explaining and heavier promises will be forthcoming. Two months thereafter, at the polls, southern Nye will show indubitably the exact impression the promises, threats, explanations and personalities of a certain few have made.

Unless there is an awful upset in county politics 'twixt now and then, the Socialists will run a full ticket with more than an even break on winning—that is, unless a fusion organization can be built up that can stand a few hard knocks, and is seaworthy enough to stand considerable rocking without turning turtle. To build any strong political organization, there must be good and available political timber, and something tells us that much of that now in use is getting rather worm eaten and moldy from being left out in the damp tarvia of Tonopah. It will need a thorough renovation—and the Bonanza infers that the tarvia dust is going to stick.

Incidentally, inasmuch as the court has ruled that the county commissioners cannot collect taxes from Tonopah residents as a municipality, it would seem that the money spent on Tonopah's tarvia tantilizer comes directly from the county bank roll, and while the county seat is certainly entitled to the lion's share of the bank roll, it will not help from a personal popularity viewpoint when those from the south sit down and figure that the commissioners spent several thousand on a tarvia taste that was unwanted, unnecessary and will some day be unmentioned, while they have done absolutely nothing towards redeeming their pre-election promises concerning road work for the valley.

Oh yes, we're good organization men down here—that is, the majority are—and we'll just follow that organization straight to defeat unless some holes in the fences are plugged up al-fired quick.

If there is to be a concerted effort to smash the old fusion organization it ought to be done painlessly now, while the wreck could be salvaged and certain of the competent and capable nominees retained who would strengthen the ticket later put into the field. Whatever is to be done had better be starting, and, incidentally, if any effort is made to play square with the Amargosa valley, it's nearly time it started.

LOOKS LIKE A GOOD THING

IF IT had not been that a motion picture venture was projected in Tonopah several years ago in a somewhat careless fashion, causing losses to local investors in the enterprise, the Nevada Film Co., Inc., would have little difficulty in financing its proposition. As it is, it is receiving great encouragement, not only locally, but in the east.

There is at present a great run on dramatizations of popular novels of the present day, as well as of the standard fiction of the past. As all public fancies go, this will have its term and its termination and the public will again demand the red blooded western stuff, but will decline to accept it if it is staged in Mosquito Center, New Jersey, or even in One-Lung Forks, southern California. When they want the west they want it western, out on the plains and in the rocky hills, where miners actually mine and where cow gentlemen really "canter after the cattle."

They will also demand that the pictures be as clear as atmosphere and photography may conspire and collaborate to create, and, bless you, child, there is no place like Tonopah to combine all these conditions. Something tells the Bonanza that the Nevada Film company will make a deserved success and Tonopah will largely benefit through the undertaking.
